

PST or PST—that is the question... Sounds silly, but it isn't. . . . The first PST means Pacific Standard Time, the second PST, Palm Springs Time—and they're an hour apart. . . . All this indicates that Village time is still the main topic of conversation here. . . . Village time is still taking the time of the Village. . . . The mail, casual conversations along the Drive and telephone calls, mostly have to do with it. . . . In fact, it takes almost an hour to negotiate the walk down the Drive to the post office because so many people stop me and want to comment on Village time. . . . Most of them are favorable but if I quoted some of the others, The Sun would lose its second class postal privileges.

ONE OF THE BEST YARNS of the week came from John Munholland. . . . He had an appointment with a man from Phoenix, Arizona. . . . The Arizona expressed satisfaction on finding Munholland awaiting him. . . . "I thought I would be an hour early," he said. "I forgot to change my watch when crossing the Colorado river." . . . He was on Mountain Time—and that's Village Time now. . . . That gave Munholland an idea. . . . "Instead of establishing Village time, why not have the line of demarcation between Mountain and Pacific Time moved west to about Cabazon?" he asked. . . . "Then we'd have an extra hour of sunshine all of the time."

TWO PASTORS, pulpit friends of mine, objected strenuously to calling it Sun Time this week. . . . Said the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth, Episcopal: "Time is just an arbitrary thing, for convenience only. The world has been on Sun Time for millions of years." . . . Dr. J. R. Macartney, Community church, said: "This isn't Sun Time. Time is set by man. Nature sets Sun Time. The sun never changes although man does." . . . And another comment by postcard was: "What is time anyway? Don't you know that the sun rises here six minutes earlier than it does in Los Angeles, yet before Village Time, we were on the same time schedule with that city?" . . . It's getting too complicated for me.

THEN THERE is the man with two wrist watches. . . . One, on his left wrist, is set to Sun, pardon me, domines, Village time, the other on the right wrist, is Standard time. . . . That PST deal at the top of this column was suggestion of Mrs. G. . . . In telephone conversation with her in Los Angeles last night I said, "well, it's 9:30 PST, so I guess I'll go to bed." She said, "No, it's only 8:30 PST." After some argument it developed I was abbreviating Palm Springs time and she was abbreviating Standard time.

STILL HARPING on Village Time, Councilman Maurice McCann, who arrived at Wednesday night's meeting late, vehemently denied he was operating on Standard time. "Just had another meeting first," he panted as he took his council seat. . . . And, speaking of the city council, reminds me, . . . they certainly are saving time there. . . . The hands on the clock in the council chamber have been pointing to 1:55 since last spring. . . . Whether it's Standard or Village time, no one knows. . . . But, anyway, twice a day it's on the nose—at 1:55 a. m. and at 1:55 p. m.

THE MAIL, too, was mostly on Village time this week. . . . One of the comments was opposed. . . . "The bars are now open until 1 a. m. That means that the visitors who party there, sleep an hour later in the morning. What do they gain in sunshine?" . . . And from a woman, "I'm 76 years old but I bet I could hike my skirts up and sit on that coral fence you mentioned last week, just like a cowboy." . . . "I'm afraid I'm going to be tight tomorrow night," wrote a U.S.C. grad. "I'm either going to drown my sorrow or stage a big celebration." . . . And have had two offers on that 13-point request which Wild Bill slipped into my column last week. . . . That wasn't supposed to go, it was just a personal note.

TRYING TO DECIPHER scribbled notes in the cold gray dawn, and it's colder and grayer since Village Time, I find something here that looks like "Bob Lane, famous radio and recording pianist, is coming back to Mr. Dee's." Oh, yes, it says here, to-night. . . . He's worth hearing. . . . And another, Johnny Pagoria, Chicago Sun photographer, "Please spell my name right and, by the way, it never rains here but Wall Spalding is displaying a rain coat in his show window. How come?"

AND IN COSING, back to where we started, I like that letter Harry Harper at the Chamber got this week. "Just think, you get an hour more of something by a simple twist of your watch. Just set it ahead an hour." . . . Just to get through that long last inch to the bottom of the page want to add that I've had seven letters on benches—attention, city council.

John Phillips 11 Planes Sees Bright Find Haven Future Ahead At Port Here

Congressman Says
80th Congress Will Strive To End Chaos

Value of Village
Air Field Again
Proven This Week

By BILL RASHALL

Everything will be right with the world when the Republican-dominated 80th Congress convenes.

This was, in essence, the speech by newly re-elected Congressman John Phillips of the 22nd district, before the Palm Springs Rotary Club at their luncheon-meeting at the Desert Inn Wednesday.

Of course, Phillips stressed the fact that members of that Congress were not going back to a bed of roses in Washington but one heavily laden with work, and, despite many of the Congressman's facetious remarks, the under-current of his talk was filled with the seriousness of the work that will confront the 80th Congress.

AMONG the penceas the Republicans will seek in curing some of the country's ills, Congressman Phillips said, an official cessation of hostilities will be voted by the 80th Congress in its session if President Truman doesn't beat them to it. The greatest organizational upheaval is going to take place which will range from the replacement of some of the page boys in both houses, to new committee head appointments and the consolidation of these committees from 50 to approximately 18. He also included in this re-organizational picture the lopping off of 500,000 to one million persons from federal payrolls.

He said that the recent election was not a Republican victory but a feeling on the part of Americans that the war was over. "And that the continued excessive cost of that war and excess baggage it is continuing to load the people with, should be brought to an end."

IT WAS at this point that the Congressman said the 80th Congress would declare the official end of World War II and it was his hope that this legal cessation of hostilities would be declared as of November 11 to coincide with the Armistice Day of World War I.

"If that takes place," jocularly declared the representative, "I will not be asked to make two speeches but one on November 11, to cover both wars."

Phillips was quite serious when he declared that the indebtedness of the country now has reached dangerous proportions. "It has," he opined, "where even our representative type of government is threatened."

Permit Granted For Parking Lot

Permit for a parking lot at the southeast corner of Amado road and Bellard road was approved by city council Wednesday night. The applicant who made the application as he was leaving town but Councilman Armand Turonnet moved that the permit be granted nevertheless so that the new lessee of the land could start at once to establish a parking lot for autos and light trucks, the latter up to one ton in capacity.

In the meantime, the planning commission will consider an application for an additional lot on the north side of the street, just across from the other lot.

Red, That Is

Blue Ruled Out as Curb Marking Color

Loading zones for taxicabs and busses are going to have red curb marking under terms of an amendment to the city traffic law submitted Wednesday night by Councilman Charles Farrell, head of the city's public safety committee.

The amendment was introduced to bring the city's code in line with the state code.

White stenciled markings on the red curbs and plainly visible designs will also be provided. Originally the code had stipulated blue curbs for such loading zones but they were changed to red when it was pointed out that blue fades fast in the desert sunshine and is not easily visible at night.

Strategic value of the Palm Springs airport was again demonstrated Wednesday when 11 airplanes landed here because of the closed-in condition of the Burbank airport due to a severe coastal storm.

Three Pan-American airliners, five new ships being ferried to a Long Beach dealer and three private planes came down during the day.

The Palm Springs port was open, others were not.

AMONG passengers on the three airliners which dropped in from 1:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. were Col. Zimon Barron, pilot for a Mexican airline, and his aide, Felix Rivero, en route to Santa Monica to pick up a new DC-3 for their company, the Golfo y Pacifico A.S.A.

The private planes being ferried were five new Bellanca Cruisair seniors en route from the Chamber in Delaware to Ed Faulkner, Bellanca dealer on the coast.

EMERGENCY use of the local airport, twice demonstrated during stormy conditions at Burbank, in the past two weeks, will be further enhanced for night flyers in trouble. The CAA has consented to allow the field lights to be turned on when necessary, following appeals of local aviation enthusiasts and private flyers.

Twice recently, flyers in trouble at night have radioed police who rounded up motorists to go to the port to shine their headlights on the runways so that distressed pilots could land.

Village Time Is Going Over Well In Palm Springs

At a joint meeting of boards of trustees of Palm Springs high school and the Desert school district last night it was decided that both schools will operate on Village time unless a majority of parents object. A postcard ballot is being taken. The change will go into effect December 2.

Observance of "Sun Time in Palm Springs is receiving recognition from many distant points in the United States and yesterday the chamber of commerce received a congratulatory message from the American Hotel association in New York city.

The message sent to Earl Coffman, manager of the Desert Inn, was signed by Charles Horowitz, vice-president and manager of the American Hotel association. His message briefly stated read as follows:

"MY CONGRATULATIONS on the daylight savings decision. You got a grand break on news broadcasts here in New York and it is certainly the right step.

"Why should the mountains, no matter how beautiful, be permitted to deny you an extra hour of sunshine when a quick twist of the wrist as applied to the clock will do the trick? I am gloating over the fact that five weeks from today I will be soaking up that extra hour of sunshine there in Palm Springs."

MEANWHILE the chamber of commerce here is being besieged with voices of approval on "Sun Time" in reporting the expressions of hotels and apartment house managers who are reflecting the opinion of their guests. Without exception these winter guests are loud in their praise of daylight saving time.

Largest hotel in the Village, The Desert Inn, reported a minimum of inconveniences. Only persons affected by the change at all are those who dropped in late for dinner while passing through Palm Springs. A special stand-by crew is being used now to eliminate this problem during the early stages of "Sun Time."

DESERT SCHOOL district which held a poll of parents whose children attend grammar school are going to meet with the trustees of the Palm Springs high school before announcing a decision on the observance of "Sun Time," according to Miss Katherine Finchy, superintendent.

Up to date the Desert School is the only public institution in the city and community that is not observing the new Village Sun Time.

Final Plans For Youth Center Being Drawn

Western Week Profitable for C. of C., Scouts

That was quite an occasion at the chamber of commerce office Tuesday afternoon when Harry Irwin, treasurer of the Los Compadres club presented a pair of checks to two Village organizations.

One was for $500 to the Palm Springs Girl Scouts council, the other for $500 to the chamber of commerce.

The checks represented the profits of the recent Western week held here, October 21 to 24.

A COMMITTEE of three members of the Los Compadres club were present to hand over the checks. They were Wall Spalding, president, Kenny Paul, immediate past president, and Irwin, treasurer.

Phil Delano, himself a member of the Los Compadres, now president of the chamber of commerce, accepted on behalf of the organization.

Mrs. James Oliver accepted the Los Compadres gift on behalf of the Girl Scout council.

Citrus Belt Cities To Meet in Village

Representatives of cities will meet here tonight at the Desert Inn in a meeting of the Citrus Belt division of the California League of Municipalities.

The dinner meeting will start at 6:30, standard time, 7:30 Village time. Palm Springs city government will be host.

Swank Tennis Club Will Open Tonight

The Palm Springs Tennis Club, which opens formally tonight and tomorrow night, for the new season has had its face lifted and the plastic surgery performed stands revealed as something short of a miracle in architecture, interior furnishings and the speed with which all of that construction was performed.

Much of the planning and hard work throughout the summer months until the last moment before the curtain goes up, so to speak, tonight when members of the club and their friends attend the formal dinner-dance, can be laid at the doorstep of Lee Bering, president of the organization.

THE DINING FACILITIES of the club have been more than tripled. The services, like the kitchen and cocktail lounges, have also been more than doubled.

The entire upper terrace, as it was known last season, is now enclosed and converted into what will be known as the Bouganville room. This room, following the contour of the mountainside out of which it was hacked, is enclosed in glass. Inside the room a beautiful view of the desert as it unfolds beneath one, can be enjoyed.

Downstairs Council Rules on Dancing at Stables

Dancing at The Stables, swank resort in the northeast end of town, formerly Rogers, will be permitted only on the first floor until recommendations of the public safety committee of city council are met, it was decided Wednesday night.

Charles Farrell, head of the public safety committee, presented his group's recommendations that two additional exits or fire escapes be established before a final dance permit is granted and City Manager William E. Allen.

Mrs. Hitchner To Face Trial On December 3

Superior court trial of Mrs. Ruth Hitchner has been set for 10 a. m., December 3, before Judge O. K. Morton, according to word received yesterday from Harry Dougherty, chief deputy to District Attorney John Neblett.

Dougherty said that Neblett would conduct the prosecution for the state, and he would assist. Mrs. Hitchner is charged with shooting her husband, Adam, to death in their Palm Springs home October 10, following a dispute over the removal of furniture from their home.

The District Attorney, it is understood, will attempt to prove first degree murder.

Engineer Here To Talk Over Tram Plans

Gordon Bannerman, chief tramway expert for the American Steel and Fire company and in charge of plans for the construction of the Mt. San Jacinto Winter Park authority's proposed aerial tramway to the winter playgrounds above Palm Springs, paid this city a fleeting visit early this week.

Some changes in original plans for the tramway were discussed by Bannerman and Earl Coffman, head of the authority and it is reported that the number of towers which will support the great lift will number nine instead of five.

OTHER CHANGES in plans are contemplated, it was reported.

Bannerman expects to return to Palm Springs next week. In Los Angeles this week he is expected to confer with engineers of the Consolidated Steel corporation and the Morrison Knudsen company who will do the concrete work on the tram job.

Deep snow in the upper stretches of the proposed route is hampering survey work, it was indicated.

ON MONDAY Bannerman is expected to confer with the entire winter park authority of which Earl Coffman and John R. E. Chaffey of Palm Springs are members and to which Gwynn Wilson was recently appointed as announced in The Sun.

Veterans Warned Deadline Near In Housing Plan

Walter Z. Allen, developer of the Vista Del Ceilo, veteran's house project, southeast of town, announced today that only 25 applicants of the original 96 who signed up for homes have so far appeared in his offices in the Plaza and asked for formal loan applications.

Allen had agreed with a committee of American Veterans of World War II to establish a deadline-time as of December 1, when the original 96 signers were to appear. After that date Allen was to draw upon his secondary list for names of veterans wishing to buy homes.

Mrs. Whitehorn To Address Club Women

Mrs. Ethel Whitehorn, well known Republican leader, will address delegates from 110 southland Woman's clubs at Riverside tonight.

It is a meeting of the southern federation of state Woman's clubs.

Coni Tilghman Wins
First Prize in Sun's
Letter Contest

Simultaneously with the announcement by Mrs. Harold J. Hicks today that final plans for the Youth Center were being drawn, came word of the winner in The Desert Sun's $100 prize contest among teenagers for best letters on what they wanted from such an institution.

First place in the contest which was based on the general theme of "What To Do To Make Palm Springs a Better Place for Youth?" went to Coni Tilghman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tilghman. She won $50 for her first place letter which will be printed in Tuesday's issue.

JUDGES in the contest said it was "a tough job" to decide the winner because all of the letters submitted, 37 of them, were so excellent and showed so much thought.

Second place went to Mort Goldberg who won $25.

The next five, who won $5 each, were Marjorie Porter, Tom Griffith, Mari Anne Slocum, Betty Ann Lilley and Jean Ruppert.

Honorable mention, according to the judges, went to Allan Boyd, Candi Hughes, Eddie Stinson, Dawn Okerlund, Walter Bender, Cherie Mashburn, Ralph Woodward, the latter two collaborating on their letter, and Diane Beveridge.

THE FIVE VILLAGERS who gave of their time to read the letters and judge the winners were Mrs. Hicks, Earl Coffman, Madge Holderman, A. G. Kettmann and Miss Katherine Finchy. They said that it took two and three readings in some instances to decide the winners.

In regard to the Youth Center itself, Mrs. Hicks said that final plans for the Center were being drawn this week by Architect Harry Williams.

AT LONG LAST, she said, young people of Palm Springs will have a meeting place of their own for their hours after school.

THE YOUTH CENTER project, which will go into construction in the next month, is the culmination of two years work on the part of the Welfare and Friendly Aid association.

Number one contributor to the building fund are Mr. and Mrs. E. W. A. Peake who last year donated $20,000. Due to rising costs in building, additional funds will be required to build the youth center.

THROUGH the generous cooperation of the Palm Springs Builders Supply and local contractors building costs will be held to a minimum. Among those participating in the community enterprise are Charles Chamberlain, contractor; Harry Williams, architect, and others who will be announced later.

Members of the welfare group met Wednesday with representatives of the student body of the high school to discuss organization and policy for the project. Students were enthusiastic over the architectural plans for the building which will be located on

Still Talking

But Doing Nothing
About It—Weather

Weather conditions remained ideal in Palm Springs this week with temperatures remaining in the 70's at the peak and in the 30's at the minimums except the past two nights when they didn't drop below the 40's.

The Village got only a light sprinkle on the edges of the storm which swept all of the southland Wednesday. In the mountains south of town, heavy rain fell during that day.

Temperature figures since last reported in The Desert Sun:

Community Hospital News

By MRS. BLANCHE TURONETT

The following is the first of a series of weekly notices relating to the activities of our Community hospital which will be written by Mrs. Blanche Turonett, chairman in charge of public relations for the Community Hospital association. (Ed. note.)

During the days of El Mirador hotel, some of us would go to the building that now houses the Palm Springs Community hospital for a little gossip with some friend, who was there for a bit of fun. Later, some of us went as Red Cross workers to help "our boys" in Ward "B," as it was known during the war. Now it is a great comfort to know, it is a place for all of us to go, if we have a little ache or a big pain. Our hospital with its fine personnel is at your service.

There, as patients the last few days were:

Medical patients: Mrs. Obeler,

Chicago, Ill., mother of Archie Obeler of MGM studios; Mrs. V. Feeking, Palm Springs; Miss Artie Lee Peterson, Palm Springs; Reuben Miller, Palm Springs; Mrs. Helen Fisher, Los Angeles; Mrs. Eva Zouganelis, Cathedral City; Geo. Strobe, Palm Springs; Baby Wm. E. McTory, Palm Springs; Miss Twila King, Palm Springs.

Surgical patients: Mrs. Ethel McKenney, Desert Hot Springs; James Redfield, Palm Springs; Herbert Bartlett, Palm Springs; Donald Reeser, Palm Springs.

Obstetrical: Mrs. Donald McMahon, Banning, daughter Patricia Ann; Mrs. Phil Young, Palm Springs, daughter Una Mae.

The members of the Junior Red Cross, hoping to brighten the holiday for patients and personnel, are making Thanksgiving favors for trays and dining hall. Their work will be greatly appreciated.

Riverside County
Valuation Increase
Fourth in State

Assessed value of taxable property in Riverside county increased 41.1 per cent during the war years, amounting to $127,278, 180 for the present year, compared with $90,224,790 for 1941-42. California Taxpayers' association said today, making public its study of valuations in California counties.

Assessed value of taxable property throughout California increased 23.8 per cent during the war years, that year's valuation amounting to $9,100,823,838, compared with $7,330,928,865 for 1941-42.

Highest percentage increase in valuation was in Solano county, up 54.8 per cent, to $68,153,640 this year from the $44,089,370 value for 1941-42. Other large relative increases in counties were 43.3 per cent for Contra Costa, 23.9 per cent for Ventura, 22.3 per cent for San Diego, 41.1 per cent for Riverside, 34.8 per cent for San Joaquin, 33.4 for Santa Clara, 33.9 for Shasta, 30.5 for Stanislaus, 31.5 for Fresno, 34.2 for Lake, and 32 per cent for Napa.

Other counties which show increases above the state average are: Los Angeles, 27.3; Mono, 27.3; Orange, 27.3; Sacramento, 26.9; San Bernardino, 24.8; and Tulare 27.2.

Only two counties, Kings and Tuolumne, show lower valuation of taxable property for this year than for 1941-42.

Notes From the Desert Museum

NATURALIST TO SPEAK. "Death Valley—a Land of Contrast," will be the subject of an illustrated talk to be presented tomorrow night by Edwin C. Alberts, park naturalist of Death Valley National monument. The talk, sponsored by the Desert Museum, will begin promptly at 8 o'clock in the Fiesta House of the Desert Inn.

Mr. Alberts has had wide experience in the National Park service in the Southwest. The talk, which is one of a series sponsored by the Desert Museum every Saturday night, will be illustrated with Kodachrome slides of Death Valley. As is usual, the speaker will be glad to answer any inquiries at the conclusion of his lecture.

MR. JAEGER PINCH-HITS. Because the recent epidemic of flu caught up with Charles Van Fleet, California state forester, who had been scheduled to give a talk on San Jacinto last Saturday night, his appearance has been postponed until January 4. In his place, Edmund C. Jaeger consented to give an informal talk on "Desert Birds." To illustrate the lecture, a film of "Birds of the North Woods" was shown. This film, with the actual bird voices recorded in the field, was produced by Dr. Arthur A. Allen of Cornell. Mr. Jaeger talked at length about such common desert avifauna as the desert quail, the roadrunner, the burrowing owl, the gnatcatcher, and the shrike or butcher-bird.

WAR FILM SHOWN. The third in the series of war orientation films was shown last Friday before a capacity in the Fiesta House of the Desert Inn, made available by Earl Coffman. This film, entitled "Divide and Conquer," showed sometimes too graphically the fall of the Lowland countries and the fall of France, and included such historic scenes as the evacuation of Dunkirk, the fall of the Maginot Line, and the bombing of Rotterdam, then an open city.

The fourth of the series, "The Battle of Britain," will be shown tonight, at 7:30. Either come to the Museum or phone to get the exact location on that date.

FILM "SIMBA" VIEWED. Through the generosity of Earl Coffman, the Desert Inn has come to the rescue of the Desert Museum in providing a larger place for its regular Tuesday night film showings. On alternate Tuesdays, the Fiesta House can be used; on the others, the lobby of the Desert Inn itself. So that more of their guests can attend, the hour of these showings

Funds To Boost Village Subject Monday Morning

Apartment and hotel owners and managers are asked to attend a special breakfast-meeting next Monday morning at 8:30 at the LaPaz Guest Ranch where ways and means of raising funds to be used to conduct a nation-wide publicity campaign will be discussed.

The meeting is being called by the chamber of commerce publicity committee headed by Ted Charleston.

It was pointed out that Palm Springs is in need of a publicity campaign when it is considered that other winter resorts are spending huge sums to lure the vacationists.

has been moved from 7:30 to 8:00. Last Tuesday evening, Martin Johnson's famous sound film on African wild life, "Simba," was shown in the lobby before a capacity audience. A color film, "Mysteries of Plant Life," rounded out the program. Next Tuesday at 8:00 in the Fiesta House, will be shown two films, one in color: "Realm of the Wild," on our California wild animals, and "Plant Traps," on the carnivorous pitcher plant and other peculiar plants that trap live insects.

TRIP TO MURRAY CANYON. The most colorful field trip of the season was conducted last Saturday by the Desert Museum up to Murray Canyon. The sycamores and wild grapes had just turned their startling autumn colors, a riot of red and yellow. A warm day after the recent rains made for perfect hiking weather. Parking their cars at Andreas canyon, the group, led by Museum Director Lloyd Mason Smith, continued on south by trail around the mountain's edge and into Murray canyon, seldom-visited by the Palm Springs tourist. Crossing the stream three times, the party halted at a small waterfall, overlooking a pool and guarded by unburned Washington palms. Here lunch was eaten, and the group then returned in a leisurely fashion.

En route the Phainopepla was observed, that curious desert bird with a black top-knot, who lives almost entirely upon mistletoe berries. Also seen were several live millipedes, found under rocks, and one live desert snail, a species which grows only in the Palm canyon area and nowhere else.

The trip this Saturday, November 23, will be a short one up Andreas Canyon.

TO GO ON AIR. Beginning Wednesday the Desert Museum will go on the air over KCMJ twice each week, on Wednesday and Sunday evening, from 5:45 to 6:00, Sun Time. The series, entitled "From Palms to Pines," will be written and produced by Museum Director Lloyd Mason Smith, and will consist of informal chats about desert subjects and interviews with interesting desert characters. The initial broadcast will recount the story of the two famous Lost Peg-leg gold mines, both firmly entrenched in our local desert lore.

Thanks — for What?

By ETHEL GILLET WHITEHORN

Thursday November 23 will be the second Thanksgiving since Japan surrendered. The people of America had hoped that the first Thanksgiving day, following the surrender, would bring the official announcement that the war had ended. But such was not the case. And it isn't the case today.

What is the formula for permanent peace? The peoples of the world may well ask themselves that question since their leaders are unable to find the answer. That the formula will be discovered in the due course of time is the prayer in the hearts of all human beings who know the bitter cost of war.

"In time of peace, prepare for war," has been the theme song of nations since 1496 B.C. When the title is changed to read "In time of peace—keep the peace," and when peace-abiding leaders are substituted for peace-preaching leaders, then the world will find the formula for permanent harmony among nations.

A STUDY of Bloch's history of the past brings home the realization of the gigantic task which confronts us.

Bloch records that from the year 1496 B. C. to the year 1861 A.D., there were but 227 years of peace.

The time elapsing between these two dates is 3,357 years, years of war for each one of peace.

Since 1861, or the past 85 years, there has been no year in which a war was not being waged in some part of the world.

Only 227 years of peace on all the earth at one and the same time, compared with 3205 years of war!

IT EXCEEDS the imagination to contemplate the mental, spiritual and physical advancement possible for the human race had those three-thousand-odd years been spent in construction instead of destruction.

American leadership is the potent factor most needed today to capture a lasting peace. Freedom of religion, freedom of the press, freedom of speech, freedom

Assemblyman Philip L. Boyd Addresses Lions Club on Program of Legislation And Describes Sources of State Laws

Assemblyman Philip L. Boyd, representative from this district at Sacramento, a member of the local Lions Club and Villager, Addressed Lions yesterday at the Desert Inn on predicted legislation and how it originates, in an interesting talk.

The next session will convene January 6, 1947, and the first source of legislation will come from the governor's office. While no intimation has been given, Assemblyman Boyd said he expected the governor's message would advocate action on health insurance, full employment, fair employment and, of course, the budget. Since voters earlier this month approved a change to annual from biennial sessions, the budget will be for one year only and therefore more accurate.

OTHER SOURCES of legislation will come from the state department and the interim committees which will recommend highway, state tax, veterans and other legislation which they have been studying since the last session.

Incidentally, the speaker said, these interim committees sometimes constitute "a racket" and he mentioned some abuses of the practice.

SPECIAL INTERESTS also bring forth a lot of legislation to consider. However, the assemblyman said, almost 90 per cent of the lobbyists are constructive and working for the good of the state.

He called the lobbying group "the third house" and said the senate was "the House of Lords" and that the assembly was called "the cave of winds."

He described the difference of assembly, and freedom from government controls and regimentation hold the answer to all social, religious and economic problems.

THREE WEEKS AGO, the American people, having realized that those freedoms were being lost, moved to recapture them. It didn't take one, two or three years to achieve their purpose. It took exactly one day—election day on November 5.

The same ability and competence used by the American people to make things right at home, should be used again by them to plant seeds of confidence and hope in the hearts of their fellowmen across the seas.

It is our most earnest hope that the men and women who are seated around the peace table will give to us, soon, the privilege of saying to them—"Thanks for work well done." We don't want to find ourselves in the position of saying to them—"Thanks —for what!"

between the senate and the assembly. The former is mostly rural, the latter, urban, thus providing an excellent balance.

THE SPEAKER was introduced by Clint Jones, Harold Hicks, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Senator Harry Cain of Washington, recently elected, and one of the youngest United States senators, was a guest of Carl Haymond and President Hicks. He addressed the club briefly.

The cannon of all three ships in Columbus' expedition cost about 14,000 pesetas—about equal to the cost of one of the big cannon on a battleship today.

Any one may do a casual act of good-nature; but a continuation of them shows it a part of the temperament. —Sterne.

would reduce federal assessments by 20 percent.

"The theory that taxes have to be high, in my opinion and many others, is wrong," continued the solon. "Reasonable taxation lifts the stranglehold from business enterprise and expansion and in reducing the cost of manufactured products, can cause prosperity to continue instead of diminish."

One part of Phillips' speech dealt with the labor situation in the country. He said that Congress may amend the Wagner Act to give the employer as much rights as the employee; that the Hobb's Bill will be enforced which provides for a 90-day cooling off period before strikes and the abolishment of jurisdictional disputes such as is raging in Hollywood.

MANY out-of-town Rotarians heard the talk and were introduced by Harry Harper, president, who presided, and also introduced the main speaker.

Oliver Jaynes, co-publisher of The Desert Sun and Banning Record, as well as an old line Rotarian, was introduced to the assembled diners as a new member of the Palm Springs Rotary club.

The introduction by Harper and the speech by Congressman Phillips was broadcast over the facilities of KCMJ. The station was given a high tribute by the Congressman for its many civic activities.

DON CABALLERO

From New York, Chicago, Seattle and other points in between they are flocking to Palm Springs. The winter social season is really on—or, if you prefer, in full swing.

Up and down Palm Canyon drive and in the more secluded spots north on Indian avenue and at the southern end of town, there are parties, little and big, with big names from all over the nation and bona fide Villagers enjoying the desert at its best—Palm Springs.

Your Don almost had to add an "e" to his name this week, he was so busy.

AMONG the many affairs in honor of Helene Hanbury, who will become the bride of Richard Heise Sunday was the gay luncheon hostessed (that's a good word, too) by Hortense Murray at her lovely home here.

Twenty-four well known Villagers and winter residents were guests of Mrs. Murray at the linen shower for Miss Hanbury.

Those present were Elizabeth Adams, Beverly Ransom, Gloria Flavin, Barbara Flavin, Nan Dutchnofer, Aimee Simon, Effie Banks, Grace Bigelow, Louise Parsons, Helen Lloyd, Margaret Kneen, Louise Peel, Florence Murphy, Helen Ingram, Juanita Crockett, Evelyn Purcell, Bonnie Smith, Georgiana Raymond, Donna Mills, Joan McManus, Margaret Hanbury, Helene Hanbury, the honoree, Jean Martineau and the hostess, Mrs. Murray.

THE DOLL HOUSE was the scene of a merry party of Chicagoans the other night. There are quite a few residents of Chicago, Oak Park, Winnetka, Evanston and so on, wintering here and the Chicago papers, the Trib, Sun, News and so on, run much publicity for Palm Springs with news of their residents, sun-timing out here. But anyway, to get back to the party.

A good number of these Chicagoans are staying at the swanky Colonial House. Each night another member of the group plays the host at some popular sopt in the Village. Before departing, however, they all gather in the Burgundy room of the Colonial House for cocktails, where Leo, the mixologist shakes up what he calls a "Colonel," rapidly becoming popular. A slow delightful haze envelopes one after about the second one.

Col. and Mrs. J. M. Harvey, Chicago, were hosts and their guests at the Doll House were Mr. and Mrs. Al Epstein, Judge and Mrs. Harry Durman, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Stern, Mr. and Mrs. H. Witz, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Pritzer and Mrs. Jack Winkler.

MOVIE STARS are flocking to the Village as usual. Radio is here, too. Also at George Strube's Doll House this week were Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt Dehn, the latter, Ginny Sims of the delightful radio voice; Charles Winniger, Mrs. Paul Lukas, Col. and Mrs. Fox, and Bob Bernsdean.

Down at the Pago Pago Tony Martin, radio and record star, is one of the regulars and you should have heard the jam session he put on the other night. Among those applauding his golden voice were Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Zanuck and Jimmy Ritz of the zanny Ritz trio.

WEEKEND HOSTS—Dr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Alessio were weekend hosts to Mr. and Mrs. George Leavens of New York city. Mr. Leavens is a nationally known photographer and has recently returned from Haiti and Jamaica where he was on a photographic assignment for "Holiday" magazine.

After their visit here they returned to their Beverly Hills studio in preparation for their cruise to the Caribbean for further photographic study.

VACATIONING—M. C. Bernard, well known author and columnist of Los Angeles, is vacationing this week at the home of his sister, Miss Esther B. Pearson. She has just opened her home here for the season.

Mr. Bernard is president of the Manuscripters club of Los Angeles, largest active author's group of the Pacific coast.

He is author of a book on column writing which is widely used as a text book by many colleges and universities in the journalistic classes.

FROM CHICAGO—Mildred Gasey, high in the Union Pacific traffic manager's office, in Chicago, is the house guest of Mrs. Esther Gilbert this week. Many affairs in her honor are being staged during her stay here.

Ask Gray Ladies To Continue Work

The Riverside chapter of the American Red Cross are asking that the "Gray-Lady Corps" Palm Springs contingent be kept in active service.

Miss Elen Pangle reported that the Gray Ladies may be kept in active service on an 18 hour a year basis here and will be asked from time to time to entertain convalescent patients of the Norco and other nearby military hospitals.

Members of the organization who wish to remain in active service are asked to contact the chairman, Miss H. Lauritz Hansen, 444 Chino drive or telephone 7786.

CONTINUING as the biggest social attraction of the evening will of course be the final opening night of the Palm Springs Tennis club. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ransom, after cocktails served at their home to a group of friends, the entire party will all be present at one table at the Tennis club.

Attorney General Fred Howser and his wife will be among the guests at Lee Bering's table. Others in this group will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macy, Dr. and Mrs. Nat Lasher, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cannan, Judge and Mrs. James Garibaldi, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis.

Also there on Saturday will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dunbar, Dr. and Mrs. Omar Fareed, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reed, Dr. and Mrs. John Costello, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmo Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haymond with a party of eight, Commentator Harrison Wood and a party of six will be present as will Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Marco and a Los Angeles party of ten.

Others who plan to attend on Saturday night are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leussler, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Faiglen, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. MacLean Gordon, Mr. Harrison Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kraemer, Mr. Clarence Wooley, Mr. and Mrs. David Foutz, Mrs. E. Krozek, Mr. Ernest Dunlevie, Ronald Button, his wife and a group of friends from Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Roland C. Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. William Larrabee.

Washington Solon Guest in Village Of Carl Haymonds

Harry Cain, newly elected senator from the state of Washington, and Mrs. Cain, are guests in the Village this week of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haymond, 591 West Stevens Road. Both families are residents of Tacoma.

Senator Cain, when he starts his term in the U. S. senate in Washington, D.C. will be the second youngest senator in that house.

SENATOR-ELECT Cain is here to rest up after the strenuous campaign in which he became the first Republican to be elected to the senate in almost three decades.

He is married and has two children, Buzzie, aged 10, and a daughter "Candy Cain" aged five.

IN THE NORTH, because of his great activity, he has been given the nickname of "Hurricane."

Cain spoke at the Lions club meeting yesterday and added a word of praise for "Village Time," declaring he liked the idea.

Ask All Veterans To Meet at Council Chamber

All Village veterans are asked to attend a general membership meeting of the council chambers at the El Paseo Theatre auditorium Friday evening at 7:30. The meeting is open to veterans belonging to the AMVETS, American Legion, DAV's and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Spirit behind the call to this meeting is Glen Rogers, commander of the V.F.W.'s.

Subject that will come up for discussion will be a veterans service office in Palm Springs to be supported by all veteran groups; housing projects now under construction in the community and a permanent meeting place for the organizations interested. A large attendance is expected.

Outstanding Net Stars To Perform At La Quinta Hotel

Tennis enthusiasts will have a treat in store Sunday afternoon when a group of the nation's outstanding professional racquet stars will be presented in an exhibition match at La Quinta hotel.

Those appearing will be John Faunce and Wayne Sabin, who recently made up a quartette of professional players with Donald Budge and Bobby Riggs. The foursome toured the nation playing in national tournaments at most of the large cities around the country.

The matches are to begin at 2:30 p. m. on the courts at La Quinta hotel. Jo Sawyer, who recently returned from a successful summer of coaching in the east, to be tennis pro at the hotel, is in charge of arranging the matches. The public is invited.

Also on the program will be Carl Earn, who since having turned professional has beaten Bobby Riggs in tournament play.

In the professional tennis tournament held in Palm Springs last April, Founce won the doubles title playing with Riggs. In a hard fought singles match Earn playing against top notch star, Fred Perry, lost by a close score in the fifth set.

worth followed with further recommendations with safety as the paramount issue.

TEMPORARY permit for dancing downstairs until council meets again was recommended. Councilman E. F. Martell moved that the recommendations be adopted but before a vote was taken, Attorney E. E. Theriau, acting as counsel for The Stables, asked for a chance to speak.

He asked that the temporary permit for dancing in the main ball room on the second floor be extended on the grounds that the resort had not been notified of the city council's recommendations in time to make the required changes.

THE APPEAL failed when no one seconded Councilman Farrell's amendment to the original motion to extend the permit because The Stables had not been notified of the safety regulations established.

The recommendations of the city manager were adopted unanimously.

Reservation's Water Problem Studied

Indian land affairs committee of city council, Armand Turonet, chairman, and Culver Nichols and E. F. Martell, Wednesday night discussed questions of water for lessees of land on the reservation and methods of procuring additional mains and financial responsibility.

Representing renters of Indian lands was Mrs. Jennie H. Maiereder and representing the Indians was Clem Segundo.

WHO WILL PAY for additional mains was the main question.

City Manager William E. Alworth explained that people outside of the reservation, who mapped out subdivisions, put in streets and supplied sufficient water to meet the needs of prospective buyers and said that the same rule should apply on the reservation. When additional lots are leased for homes, water should be provided for them, he said.

"Whether it's on section 14 (the reservation), 19 or 26, the same rule should apply," he argued.

EXPLANATIONS of how the water company must operate, under state railroad commission rules, followed.

Segundo, after heading the statements about operations of subdividers, said:

"They have millions, we have not."

The committee said that there would be no more permits granted for buildings on leased land unless sufficient water was in prospect, both for fire protection and sanitary reasons.

C. of C. Members To Meet Monday at La Paz Breakfast

When members of Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce assemble for their breakfast meeting Monday morning they will meet in the western designed dining room at La Paz Guest ranch. The more than 80 members are to be served from a buffet and will dine in the sunfilled dining room or at tables arranged about the swimming pool and in the patio.

A new bit of entertainment is being introduced each Saturday afternoon and throughout the dinner hour at La Paz. While guests are enjoying the leisurely cocktail hour in their rooms or by the pool, Zac Kalbach will serenade the groups and it has been found he can sing any choice mentioned. The strolling troubador appears in a typical Swiss costume, and adds gaiety to the sun-down hours. He later serenades each table of guests in the dining room.

THANKSGIVING weekend will be a busy time at the guest ranch with many parties planned and a number of last season's holiday families coming back for the festivities. Among those from last season are Dr. and Mrs. Richard F. Bishop with their daughter, Ann Marie, who is an excellent horseback rider; Dr. and Mrs. Ruben Larson of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Keelan and friends, who will join the merry group assembled.

Culminating the weekend will be an exhibition tennis match to be played on the championship court at La Paz. Jack Cushingham, local tennis pro, will be in charge of arrangements and promises to present a group of big name tennis players in both singles and doubles matches. A buffet luncheon will be served al fresco by the court and around the swimming pool.

Among guests stopping at La Paz this week are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cepicka, who oddly enough, reside on La Paz road in Montecito, near Santa Barbara, California.

Masons To Meet Tuesday at Noon

Palm Springs Masonic lodge will meet next Tuesday at the Desert Inn. President John Archibald announced today.

The meeting will start promptly at 12 noon (Village Time) he added and reservations should be made at once by local and visiting Masons.

Col. Frank Kuhns of March Field will be the speaker.

The Masonic lodge meets the last Tuesday of each month.

whole conception just should not be . . . for there are so many possibilities with slacks . . . that it is a shame that they are so abused. We feel that a pair of slacks should be treated almost as a smart skirt . . . of course, minus the high heels and stockings, fur coat and hat (and we rather defeated our point) but

From Hed to Toe

By BARBARA K. SCHILLY

There is nothing more comfortable or convenient than a pair of slacks, that cannot be denied. However, too often slacks are only considered as an item to throw on while watering the petunias or because we just do not feel like dressing up.

All we can say is that this are merely saying that they deserve the same attention and accessories a skirt would receive . . . plus a few extra touches that make a slack outfit look finished.

FOR EXAMPLE . . . consider a pair of slacks and take a blouse . . . combine them and the result is merely a pair of slacks and a blouse. But add a few small items such as a belt, scarf and costume jewelry and you have the difference between something ordinary and an interesting outfit.

Then there are slack suits . . . which can be as interesting as a regular suit. We especially liked one we saw . . . the jacket cut on a bellboy style . . . double breasted . . . waist length and the neck was a very deep square. A tailored blouse was worn with it . . . buttoned to the top and a black velvet ribbon tied under the collar. Very pert and a departure from the rather stereotyped slack suits than consist usually of slacks and plain cardigan jacket.

El Ranchero To Open Monday as New Village Spot

Monday, November 25, has been announced as opening day for Palm Springs' newest and most unique place to dine and dance, the Palm House's El Ranchero Room.

Owned by Victor Sudaya, Eugene Hughes and Howard Ferris, the El Ranchero Room is but one step toward what will ultimately be a quarter of a million dollar resort hotel called The Palm House. The El Ranchero Room and the remainder of the hotel, on which construction will start in the immediate future, was engineered by famed architect Harry Williams of Palm Springs.

THE PALM HOUSE'S owners, who have been visitors to the village for many seasons past, came here last summer to make their homes. Mr. Sudaya is a native of California, who was formerly in the manufacturing business in Los Angeles, and who sold out there to join the Navy for the war period. Mr. Hughes who called Sacramento his home before the war period, was an instructor in war service training for the Air Corps during the war. Both Mr. Sudaya and Mr. Hughes are married. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes' two children are now attending the Village schools. Mr. Ferris, the third partner, is currently in Reno, Nevada. He operated the well known Sheridan hotel in Sheridan, Wyoming before entering the cavalry for the war period, during which he saw service in the South Pacific theater. Mr. and Mrs. Ferris will arrive in the Village in the near future.

At the El Ranchero room, Western atmosphere will prevail with decorations in the manner of the days of the early West. Western hospitality will be the keynote of the El Ranchero which will feature delicious dinners by that well known and versatile Chef Manning, Jack "Murphy" Murphy, who for many years was with Trav Rogers at Rogers Ranch, will be chief wrangler in charge of reservations and wines.

THE OWNERS have announced that an outstanding orchestra will furnish dance music nightly and that special evenings of various sorts will soon be announced. These will include Western Night. Entertainment with a gay nineties flavor will be furnished for the enjoyment of guests.

In addition to Hughes and Sudaya, Roy Randolph, well known Villager, will add his talents as master of ceremonies.

typed slack suits than consist usually of slacks and plain cardigan jacket.

ANOTHER PAIR of slacks we liked was the "Hairless Joe" model (for lack of a better name). They were fringed at the bottom . . . tremendous at the waist . . . and held up by a rope (only fancier than Joe's). Instead of loosely gathering the material at the waist, two unsewed diagonal folds were adjusted, and although our Lil' Abner character was the originator of the style, and although the style will probably go over big with Dogpatch women, we feel Palm Springs women will be just as much, if not more enthused.

New Liquor Store "Cork 'n' Bottle" Is Opening Today

Opening for the first time today is the "Cork 'n' Bottle," 392 North Palm Canyon drive, beautifully designed interior bottled goods liquor store. Ownership of the new establishment is held by James A. Mack, Mrs. Ann Portnoy and Merrill Crockett, Village pharmacists.

The new liquor store is not being operated because of the issuance of a new liquor license in the Village, but the transfer of Crockett's to the new location.

The interior of the store is lined in glass mirrors and together with other fixtures cost approximately $15,000. When fully stocked the owners plan to have at least $50,000 in liquors of all kinds on the store's shelves. All of the imports obtainable both in scotches, whiskies, cordials, wines and champagnes will be on display at the "Cork 'n' Bottle."

Seems there isn't a day or a night in this town that a meeting isn't taking place. The church groups have been especially active this week. The Community Circle met on Monday and elected Mrs. Will Davis to serve as their president for the forthcoming year. Members of the church board and the trustees of the Community church met on Tuesday evening. Will Lippman was chosen as a new member to serve on the board.

The ladies of St. Paul's Guild are busy making plans for their bazaar to be held early in December in the Fiesta House on the Desert Inn grounds. They are not planning to have their annual bridge party at this time but will concentrate on the goodies and gifts this bazaar is famous for.

THE MEN of the parish of Our Lady of Solitude met with Father O'Conner on Monday evening at the rectory to map their plans for the year and the following evening the church choir partied at Larry Sitter's after their practice.

Dr. and Mrs. John Robertson Macartney were able to forget the affairs of the church for a few days and get up to their cottage at Forest Home to enjoy the first snow. Friends of the Howard Ames of Indio, were sorry to hear that Mrs. Ames was taken ill last week and is now in Loma Linda. The Ames were Villagers for many years and Mr. Ames is an elder of the Community church.

THIS HAS BEEN a very busy and exciting week for Helene Hanbury who will be married to Dick Heise Sunday afternoon at the Community church. Many lovely parties and showers have been given these past days in her honor. Gloria Flavin, who will attend Helene as her maid of honor, was hostess Tuesday evening at a bridal shower. Many of Helene's old school friends were there to wish her well. Hortense Murry's Buena Vista home was the scene of a luncheon and shower on Wednesday of this week for the bride-to-be and Mrs. Robert Ranson entertained for her last week at a very lovely bridal shower. The young couple were particularly excited this week when they found a long sought apartment in Beverly Hills. Dick is with the Hutton company in that city.

Friends of Barbara Emigh gathered at Mary Cornman's Plaza apartment Thursday evening to surprise this bride-elect with a wedding shower. Jo King Osborn and Trudy Sawyer Hall, both brides of the past month, were down from San Bernardino for the affair. Barbara will be

What Goes On at Rancho Mirage

The old drive is back on like last spring but with an added fillup: Lots sales as fast as ever and the added thrill of seeing buildings completed and new faces moving into the area. Dave Culver will be coming back from the National Apartment House Owners association in Oklahoma City to his blue house that has been completed while he has been away. Herb Foster will be in his about December 15 and it is sure surprising the way Bernie and Sigrid Gallagher, with the help of Bernie's brother John, are pushing their place on the West Veldt. The new owner of the Dick Barrett house, Mrs. Madge Beckwith, is now moving in and will make this her headquarters for the many enterprises married to Bill Foster on November 27th, Thanksgiving Eve, in San Bernardino.

FROM PENDLETON, Oregon, we hear that Helen and George Kinsky are buried under many feet of freezing snow and longing for the good old Palm Springs sun. Helen's mother, Mrs. Lotz, is in the Village for another season. Among those flocking into town for the Big Game Saturday will be Vera and Gordon Nicholson. When they return to the Village they will be accompanied by Mrs. Guy Pinney. Many plans are being made for her visit here including Thanksgiving which she will spend with the Donald Locketts. U. S. C.'s marvelous a cappella choir was down this week to entertain the high school students at a special assembly.

After three quarters of an hour of beautiful music they put a finis to their program by singing the university's alma mater. Much as we were moved by this tuneful rendition we hope they will not have the opportunity to serenade the Bruins with it come Saturday.

THE THURSDAY bridge parties at Florence Murphy's home still continue popular. They are under the auspices of the Eastern Star and whether you are a beginner or an old hand at the game you'll find your match there and have a wonderful time. Better make your reservations with Mrs. Murphy. If you're looking for Amelia Stern's phone number for Eastern Star luncheons better try calling Louise Sanborn as Amelia has changed her address from El Encanto, where she has resided for the past five years, to El Moro.

The editorial column of this paper rightfully belongs to Phat but we can't help but agree with City Manager Bill Alworth concerning Sun Time. How can we tell whether we'll like it or not until it's given a fair trial and it's not a fair trial unless all of Palm Springs enter into it.

She has recently acquired the Andreas hotel which is to be the Andreas office building. In this our old friend Peggy Scott will operate a telephone calls service, a secretarial service and a notary public. Another Beckwith job is the Cathedral City motel. It is nice to see Carl Hoerman's red shirt with Carl in it working around his house again and when he gets done we expect him to have one of the loveliest gardens in the Rancho.

BIG NEWS: We now have our own traffic problems completely disassociated from the state highway. The other day we had our first traffic accident in the tract. Hal DeVoist, a Banning druggist, was hurrying around the corner of Del Sol road onto the Veldt and ran headlong into the truck of our friends, Camp and Crawford, the electricians. What with quail hunting on the mind of DeVoist and Crawford's brand new baby in Loma Linda that he and Camp were hurrying to see we forgive them all the excitement it caused. Orchards to Don Maher for towing the vehicles out of the middle of the corner and fixing it so that our heavy traffic was not interrupted for long.

Old associations keep cropping up. An old timer dropped in the other day that will recall to many of us the old Dunes at Cathedral City: Albert Ziegert, who was maitre d'hotel there for three years and before that had a long siege as such at the Coconut Grove. He was in here asking about the old Duners, Jules and Webb, who are doing such a fine job of entertainment at the Desert Rendezvous in the Indio hotel.

INCIDENTALLY they are starting an engagement at the La Quinta hotel on Dec. 1 and have offered their services for the AMVETS party at the Colonial House on Dec. 4.

Jimmy Hughey just dropped in and gave us a preview of the combination market-gift shop-refreshment building he is getting ready to construct here in Rancho Mirage. To hear him tell it it's going to be a very beautiful desert looking place and we are all for it. You will shortly see this unit going in along the highway on the Palm Village end of our tract.

Cheerio, Mates!

Yes... We've lots to be Thankful For!

For the first time in five years most American families again will be united as they sit down before the festive Thanksgiving table. Sons and daughters will be back from such strange and far away places as Anzio... Ardennes... Karachi... Iwo Jima... Okinawa.

In the hearts of every man and woman who saw those far off lands will be a silent Thanksgiving for the American Way. Those who saw how others live will give thanks for their return home to one of the few nations where the Four Freedoms are a reality, not a shibboleth.

True, they returned home to find many things changed. They found new problems, shortages, and even unrest. But they could still give thanks that the cornerstone of human rights remained unchanged. America was still the land where they could speak without fear of reprisal, where they could worship as they please, and where individual initiative enabled man to be free from want.

They still had liberty for which other men are willing to die. With thanks for this unspoiled heritage, they can face tomorrow with faith and courage; they can go on to build a better America... a better world.

Six Free Meetings
To Be Sponsored By School Board

Six free public forum meetings will be sponsored this winter by the trustees of the Palm Springs High School. The first meeting is scheduled for Thursday evening, December 12.

The theme for the series of meetings to be held this season is "Toward a People's Peace." This announcement was made this week by Dr. Ernest E. Oertel, who has been asked by the high school trustees to serve again as moderator for the discussion programs. He is principal and district superintendent of P.S.H.S.

ACCORDING to Dr. Oertel, speakers have been selected for the meetings who can address themselves effectively to the selected theme.

"Requests have been made by representative citizens," the high school principal said, "for meetings relating to world peace. We have tried to meet popular demands in arranging for these meetings. At the same time it has been necessary for us to contract for approved speakers who can contribute to the theme in a manner acceptable to the State Department of Education. These public forum meetings are run as a part of the state adult education program. There must be a minimum of four meetings in a series devoted to an approved topic and all speakers must be certified. The state reimburses the local school district for expenses incurred in the program on a basis of certified attendance.

"IT IS NOT POSSIBLE to employ any speaker who may think he has a message. An effort is made to select trained speakers who enjoy a good platform reputation and who are known to be sound thinkers. No particular political or philosophical pattern is followed in outlining subjects and speakers but critical, constructive, analysis is sought after."

Public forum meetings have been conducted for four seasons in Palm Springs under the direction of the trustees of the high school district. Attendance has been better than in most other communities of the same size.

THE MEETINGS this year are to be held in the City Council Chambers (El Paseo Theatre). Principal Oertel is arranging to have a quarter hour of incidental music before each forum meeting. This is to be furnished by school and community talent. At the first meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hammond are to entertain with some lively duets from the popular musical comedy, "Oklahoma."

Letters to the Editor

HE WANTS BENCHES

Editor, The Desert Sun: Will you please read this and forward to a councilman who is sympathetic to leaving the benches on the streets?

Please permit me to say that you should emphatically put the benches along the street—and double their number.

What is this, a city or a resort town? You sensibly and properly call it a village, and you want the guests properly to dress like synthetic cowboys; people come here to get away from the city and to enjoy a small-town resort atmosphere.

There should be plenty of places for people to sit down and rest and relax in the sun, the more so due to the fact no hotel here wants non-guests to loaf in its lobby—too many loafers, like myself, in Palm Springs and the hotels will not hold all of them.

I am retired and spending my winters at Palm Springs; spent 3½ months here last winter and spent many a restful and peaceful hour sitting on the street benches in the sun.

The recreational opportunities are quite limited for persons 50 years and older—library, museum lectures and strolling and sitting in the sun watching the parade.

What do you expect a man or woman to do who goes to the main street for a little shopping and two or three hours out of doors? Do you expect them to stand on their feet in front of that corner drug store for two hours?

Or is it right and proper that a bench in the sun is at hand so a person can sit down for a half hour? Don't be ridiculous—put those benches out, two to the block all the way on Palm Canyon Drive! I have sat down beside many another who expressed appreciation of the benches—men and women.

Yours truly,
R. P. FRANCK.

Dear "Phat": In grateful appreciation of the efforts of those who made Desert Daylight Savings Time a reality, I should like to state how it benefits me personally: At 5:30 p. m., it is now still light; previously it was dark. I enjoy swimming at the warm, mineral Desert Hot Springs pool at this time of the year, which closes at 6 p. m., "old" time. It is now possible for me to leave here at 5:30 p. m. and arrive there at about 5 p. m., "their" time. A neat trick, I call it!

JIM CAMPBELL.

THE CENTIPEDE

Centipedes have long been regarded with fear by the layman, and not without some justification, for the bite of a few species is poisonous to man. However, the majority of the world's many kinds of centipedes have venom which would affect you, if at all, no more than would the sting of a wasp or honey-bee. Some of the tropical forms are reputedly more dangerous, but they are rare and do not occur in the United States. Nor is there any authenticated record of any death caused by the bite of a centipede.

The common name "centipede" is derived from two Latin words meaning "hundred-footed," in allusion to the many pairs of walking legs. In fact, your first impression when you glimpse one scooting across the floor or ground, is a flash of undulating, writhing legs. This, coupled with the legend of the potency of its venom, combine to make the centipede a much maligned and dreaded desert denizen. This is unfortunate, in a way, since centipedes do a great deal of good, from our viewpoint, in feeding upon obnoxious flies and other insect pests.

ACTUALLY, a centipede does not have a full hundred legs, or even half that many. The number of pairs does vary among the species, but our commoner varieties have from 38 to 42. Others may have up to 175 pairs! These walking legs are always arranged in two's, one to each body segment.

The color of centipedes varies considerably from locality to locality. Some of our desert varieties are light golden yellow to blend in with the sandy regions where they live; while others are brownish with bright metallic blue bands. In more humid areas the centipedes are greenish, or very dark, almost black.

Centipedes, like the scorpions and spiders and insects, belong to that great phylum of invertebrate animals we call Arthropods, and to a special group of arthropods called the Chilopoda (Greek for "lip-footed," because the foremost pairs of legs have become greatly altered to form jaws or "lips"). At one time the centipedes were thought to be very closely related to the millepedes (which they do resemble superficially) and were grouped with them in the Myriapoda ("many-footed"). More recent work, however, has discovered that the centipedes are much more closely allied to insects than are the millepedes, and so each animal was accorded a special group. You can tell a centipede from a millepede in many ways. For one thing, centipedes have only one pair of legs to each body segment, whereas a millepede apparently has two. Also, the antennae of the centipede are long and prominent; in the millepede they are short and greatly reduced. The legs of the centipede are fairly large, while those of

How to Handle a Fortune

Some months ago I reported in the Clarion how Mel Bar's uncle died up north, and left him with a tidy fortune.

Naturally, our town was curious to see how Mel would spend it: Traveling around the world... getting a new house or car... wearing fancy clothes... or dining on cold pheasant and champagne...?

We can now report, Mel hasn't changed a bit! Drop in on him any night, and you'll find him in his shirt sleeves by the fire, chatting with the Missus, sharing a mellow glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, Mel has learned the art of handling money — as well as handling people. You don't let cash-in-the-bank push you around any more than you let people push you around. If you like the simple, homey life; companionship and quiet ways; a glass of beer and friendly talk — that's worth a fortune, after all!

Health Means Not Only Years to Life But Life to Years, Speaker Says at Week's Meeting of Village Woman's Club

"We should be interested in health not only because we want to add years to life, but also life to years," declared Mrs. I. H. Tielman, speaking on "Health and Nutrition" at the meeting of the Palm Springs Woman's club Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Tielman, whose home is in Selma, Calif., is state chairman of health and nutrition. She was introduced by Mrs. John Stewart of Hemet, state trustee of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, who was presented by Mrs. James Geggie, the local program chairman.

"THE NATION'S HEALTH is not what it should be because of lack of health education in our schools, poor nutrition, and lack of medical care," Mrs. Tielman told her listeners, "and clubwomen must lead the educated public opinion that will bring improvements." She discussed each of the three inadequacies in detail, urging the members of her audience to take an active interest in this important problem.

Preceding her talk, there was a brief business meeting at which Mrs. Florence Murphy presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. H. M. F. Behneman. Mrs. Murphy announced that the clubhouse will be open from 10 to 4 on December 14th and 15th for the collection of canned goods to be distributed for Christmas by the Friendly Aid.

MRS. GORDON CLARKE read the names of the new members of the Woman's club as follows: the Mesdames Fred G. Ingram, Harriet Henderson, E. S. Williams, James Blackstone, Phil Delano, Lyle C. Newcomer, Herschel Moseley, Floyd Mitchell, William H. Elliott, Marguerite H. Hoover, J. Morrison, William Rashall, Valentine Blatz, J. Omlin, Oliver B. Jaynes, E. E. Oertel, Enid Armstrong, Larry Jenner, H. F. Lotz, Howard Jay, A. H. Renier, V. H. Alchain, Gladys Denton, J. H. O'Reilly, Joseph W. Smoot, Judson Osburn Jr., and H. S. Haskin.

Tea hostesses at the social hour which concluded the meeting were Mrs. Faye S. Robinson, chairman; and the Mesdames Violet Fowler, William Lux, William H. Veith, Maynard C. Groth, Howard Walker and Roger Williams.

THE NEXT MEETING on December 2nd, will feature Powell Helton, creative artist in natural wood, whose subject will be "Moods in Wood." He will be assisted by Mrs. Helton.

Tea hostesses for that meeting will be Mrs. Clarence Simpson, chairman; Mrs. Charles J. Burket, Mrs. Howard Walker, Mrs. John G. Kline, Mrs. Bradstreet Miller, Mrs. James Hume, Mrs. Robert W. Peterson and Mrs. Frank Miller.

La Quinta Hotel

Bringing together a star-studded array of national and state swimming and diving champions, La Quinta hotel again was host to a group who performed in their water show staged Sunday at the hotel's pool. The audience assembled at tables shaded by brightly hued umbrellas, where a buffet luncheon was served preceding the water program.

Performing before a completely filled hotel the swimmers were applauded by such notables from the film colony as Charles Wininger, of Show Boat fame; Greta Garbo, one of screenland's coming youngsters, Carole Keppeler, who is the namesake of Carole Lombard and has been in a number of first run pictures; Paul Hesse, noted photographer.

Others applauding the acts were Mr. and Mrs. Armond Turronet, of Palm Springs, Dr. and Mrs. Warren Traylor, of Westwood, with their daughter Donna and her school chum, Marilyn Atwood, from Anchorage, Alaska; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McNeel (Joan Davidson), Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McGinley and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. King, Altadena; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Oppenheimer, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sherman, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Newman, Los Angeles, with Marion Severen, New York, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Strock, also of that eastern city.

At the B-Bar-H

Everyone turned out at the B-Bar-H ranch pool last Friday, trying to make up for lost tans, after hiding from the rain for a couple of days. Among those enjoying the bright sun over the weekend were M. R. Hartlig, owner of the Sportman Tavern, Ventura; Jack Massman and Samuel Reisman, both of Los Angeles; and L. Thomas Foster of Bel-Air. True desert lovers were seen taking a daily walk for the various beautiful views about the ranch including both San Jacinto and San Geronimo.

Saturday night found all the guests present for the big "Saturday night dance." Jennings Lang supplying the laughs when he went all out for the square dance, his partner being charming Mrs. Lang. It was agreed by all that no additional activities would be necessary until the next western dance, as sufficient exercise was obtained by those joining in the Virginia Reel, Military Schottisch, Spanish Waltz with an occasional Rumba and Zomba for variation.

ENTHUSIASTIC RIDERS turned out Sunday morning at 8:00 for a breakfast ride led by Cowboy Ray Mills. In the future breakfast rides will be on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday morning.

A lovely buffet supper Sunday, under the supervision of the Ranch hostess, Miss Charlie Weiss, found many guests coming back for seconds. Next Wednesday a picnic at the pool will be a regular weekly feature.

Miss Louise Gillis, manager of the B-Bar-H has big plans for the first of the B-Bar-H gymkhana to be held on December 1.

Statewide Safety Campaign Planned For Holiday Time

A statewide safety campaign enlisting the support of public officials, safety groups, women's organizations, patriotic societies, and all other interested bodies and having as its purpose the reduction of accidents during the holiday season was announced today by Edgar E. Lampton, director of Motor Vehicles according to word received today by A. G. Kettmann, chief of police.

The campaign will have as its slogan the theme "Don't Let Death Take Your Holiday." It will be conducted under the direction of the newly created Bureau of Accident Prevention of the department headed by W. A. Huggins.

NEWSPAPERS, radio stations, billboards, public addresses, schools and business organizations will be included among those enlisted in the campaign. The state bureau will act as the coordinating agency in carrying on a campaign on the local level among the several community safety councils throughout the state. The highway patrol will work with local agencies, Lampton said, in providing leadership and making the necessary contacts. A week by week program emphasizing various aspects of safety is under preparation.

The cooperation of tavern owners to reduce accidents due to over indulgence of intoxicants during the holiday period will be sought. Cafe owners will be asked to print safety messages on menus. Stores will be asked to prepare window displays and carry the message "safety" in their advertising columns.

Community Church Now on New Village Time

Community church is operating on Sun Time, Dr. J. R. Macartney, pastor, said today. Villagers are urged to remember the change so as not to miss any services.

The Rev. James Blackstone Jr. addressed two large audiences last Sunday night, the Young People's group at 6:15 and the evening congregation at 7:30. At the latter service the high school girls' quartet gave a very much appreciated number.

Rev. Blackstone's sermon was on "The Joys of Christian Life."

These meetings, scheduled from Dec. 1 to Dec. 8 are open to the public. Dr. Brown will also conduct a question box to answer any queries on Biblical, scientific or evolution subjects.

He is the author of several volumes along these subjects. His first address will be broadcast over station KCMJ.

Dr. Arthur Brown To Start 8-Day Series December 1

Dr. Arthur I. Brown, well known surgeon and scientist, is expected in Palm Springs Nov. 30. While in the Village, he will deliver a series of nine sermons here.

He will tell how and why he quit the operating room for the pulpit and will deal with many absorbing topics dealing with religion and science and their interrelations.

Dr. Brown has held meetings with Dr. J. R. Macartney, pastor of Community church in other parishes and has had remarkable success.

These meetings, scheduled from Dec. 1 to Dec. 8 are open to the public. Dr. Brown will also conduct a question box to answer any queries on Biblical, scientific or evolution subjects.

He is the author of several volumes along these subjects. His first address will be broadcast over station KCMJ.

Thanksgiving Day Services Set for Nov. 28

Thanksgiving day services will be held Thursday, Nov. 28, at 10 a.m. at Community church, Dr. J. R. Macartney said today.

An interesting program has been prepared with President Harry Truman's proclamation to be read as also the first proclamation by President George Washington.

The program will conclude at 10:50 enabling family dinner gatherings for turkey day.

Baptism Service for Adrienne Farrell

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Farrell was baptized at the close of services last Sunday at the Community church.

Adrienne Lupe Farrell was the name given her at the service which was witnessed by many friends of the family.

Assisting the pastor, Dr. J. R. Macartney in the services, were two of the elders of the church, Howard Ames and John C. Langtry.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins Return to Village

Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins arrived back in Palm Springs from the summer spent at their home on Long Island the other night.

A group of their friends from Community church went to the depot to welcome them back to the Village.

Traffic Jams

Did you ever notice a highway approach to a big city during the closing hours of a beautiful week-end? Jammed with traffic, cars bumper to bumper.

Did you ever visit a telephone switchboard room during the peak hours? Same kind of thing. Switchboards jammed with traffic, calls being put through as fast as possible but some delayed because of the pile up of messages standing bumper to bumper.

That's what is going on in telephone exchanges all over the nation today. But when telephone companies get their new switchboards and other equipment, the traffic jams will be relieved and calls will flow over the highways of speech smoothly and without delay.

Christian Science Theme
"Soul and Body"

"Soul and Body" will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from Romans: "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

In a Lesson-Sermon citation Luke relates that Jesus "entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her; and immediately she arose and ministered unto them. Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them."

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Like the great Exemplar, the healer should speak to disease as one having authority over it, leaving Soul to master the false evidences of the corporeal senses and to assert its claims over mortality and disease."

Christmas Plans Already in Making At Village Church

Christmas, still more than a month away is in the air and plans are already being drawn at Community church.

Young people of the church will go around the Village carolling as has been the custom in the past on Christmas eve bringing cheer to shut-ins and the ailing. Plans for the program are now being mapped.

The outstanding Christmas musical festival will take place Dec. 22, Mrs. Holly Lash Visel, musical director of Community church said this week.

The massed choirs of the church are busy preparing for the event. More than half a hundred singers will be heard in the event, rehearsals for which are now under way.

Harvest Festival At St. Paul's to Go Out Over KCMJ

The entire morning service next Sunday will be broadcast over the Palm Springs radio station KCMJ. It will be the annual Harvest Festival, with special music and prayers and a sermon by the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth, rector, on "The Lord of the Harvest."

The parish choir under the direction of Alex S. Hammond and Wynne Davis Hammond, with Eileen Carey at the organ, will sing among other numbers: "Te Deum Laudamus" by Kotschmar and "The King of Love" by Shelley.

The Sunday school at the early hour will celebrate the harvest by bringing one or more little gifts of non-perishable food to stock the cupboards of the Episcopal Home for Children in Pasadena.

THE PROGRAM at the Young People's Fellowship service Sunday night at 7 will be an address by Lloyd Mason Smith, director of Palm Springs Desert Museum, illustrated with recent pictures.

On Monday, Nov. 25, the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth, Mrs. Eber D. Kanaga and Mrs. Levering Moore, among others, will attend the church convocation in St. Andrew's church, Elsinore. The rector's car will leave about 8:30 Village Time.

Circle Meets To Map Plans, Yule Season Discussed

Community circle of Community church held a most successful meeting last Tuesday at the manse. Mrs. J. R. Macartney was hostess. Mrs. James Blackstone, wife of the new assistant pastor of the church, was welcomed by the group.

On Dec. 17 there will be a Christmas turkey dinner. It will be an old-fashioned Christmas party with many surprise features being planned.

Reservations may be made with George B. Davies, 3084, and as table space is limited, they should be made early.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Macartney were visitors at the Community church manse with Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Macartney last weekend.

MORE ABOUT . . .

the millepede are small and short, forming a sort of "fringe" along each side of the body. The centipede has a flattened body; the millepede, a rounded one.

THE ELONGATE flat body of the centipede is made up of separate segments called somites, which give it a jointed appearance. Each of these somites is composed of a top plate (called Tergum), a bottom or belly plate (called Sternum), two side plates or membranes, and one pair of walking legs. These plates form the outside protective exo-skeleton of the creature.

A nerve cord runs the entire length of the body, with slight enlargements or ganglia in each somite to control that pair of limbs. The heart is also a long tubular organ, with branches to each segment. From the mouth straight through to the anus is the digestive tract, a simple tube. There is no need for a stomach since the body-juices of its prey form the staple diet, as is also the case in the tarantula and scorpion. However, this is not true in the millepede, for it feeds only on plant material.

The head end of the centipede is rounded and heavily plated for further protection. A pair of long prominent antennae extend from it, acting as sensory organs of feeling and probably smelling. They usually consist of some 26 segments, tapering to thread-like dimensions. Most centipedes have eye-spots, arranged in small groups on each side of the head. These can distinguish night from day and perhaps mass movement, but certainly not detail or color.

CENTIPEDES have four pairs of jaws, of which the first are the main cutting and piercing tools, complete with saw-toothed edges. These are employed in breaking through the shell or skin of the prey to get at the body-juices. The second pair are almost leaf-like in form and aid mainly in holding the prey, as do also the third pair, which are just miniature legs. It is the fourth and last pair that are the notorious poison-jaws or fangs. These are each divided into six segments, the end one being hollow and needle-sharp, with a duct at the tip for emitting the venom. Ordinarily the poison is used only to paralyze struggling prey, and secondarily to protect the centipede. It flows from the venom glands at the base of the jaws, through the fangs, and into the victim, acting much like a very small hypodermic needle.

At the tail-end of the centipede are two long almost feeler-like structures which are employed in reproduction. They are termed gonopods, and are attached to a small anal plate that bears no the last somite, on the under side (in the millepede they are near the head).

Centipedes breathe not by lungs, as we do, but by a series of tracheal tubes extending throughout the body, and opening outward through holes or spiracles. There is a pair of these spiracles, one on each side, to walking legs. The genital openings are located on the next to each somite. This breathing arrangement is also found in the millepede.

EACH WALKING LEG, which has six separate joints, terminates in a pair of tiny claws. These claws are often thought by the uninformed to be equipped with poison glands, but it is only the fourth pair of jaws that are so specialized; none of the claws can poison you. This is a popular superstition, however, and you will still read in novels or hear people tell you that a centipede has only to crawl across your arm, and that each claw will dig in and poison you, leaving a veritable trail of venom marks where it has been. Or you will hear that the claws are broken off and cause infection wherever they become lodged. This last might rarely occur, for these foot-claws will break under pressure, and they could thus cause a surface infection in the skin. However, this hypothetical case would be a rarity indeed, and centipedes could run over your arm time and time again without causing any such harm. The only way a centipede can deliberately poison you is by biting.

In habits the centipede, like so many of our desert dwellers, is nocturnal, wandering about at night in search of prey. Its food consists of any large insects or other small creatures that it happens to encounter, nor does it hesitate to attack animals many times larger than itself. It is most pugnacious and dashes toward the foe or prey with fury and determination, even if the odds are all against it.

THE FOSSIL HISTORY of centipedes tell us that they are not, geologically speaking, a very old group. The earliest known remains of them were located in amber (fossil resin) from France which is considered to be of Oligocene age, some fifty million years old.

Enemies of the centipede include many kinds of birds, the scorpion, the tarantula, and such carnivorous mammals as the little skunk. Its sole protection in these cases is flight, swift unyielding retreat. To pause is to be devoured.

Centipedes commonly dig shallow burrows under the rocks or dead wood they have chosen as their home. In digging, a centipede will first loosen the soil with the front three pairs of legs (never were the jaws observed to aid in this), then hunch up like a measuring-worm, shoving the dirt back under the body, where each adjoining pair of legs come into action and kick it still farther backward, until finally the dirt has been pushed the entire way back. At other times it will make a small load or ball of dirt under the fore part of its body, back clear out of the hole, and deposit the earth at some distance from the entrance. An Arizona desert species observed by the author constructed a U-shaped burrow about twice as long as its body. This burrow opened to the surface at both ends, but while the centipede was occupying the tunnel, at the base of the U, the tail-end of the tunnel was usually plugged with loose dirt, leaving the head-end free for flight or attack. During the day, this centipede would lie dormant in this U-shaped passageway; then at night it would become active, emerge, and move restlessly about until daylight, when once more it would retire beneath the ground.

ALTHOUGH it has been pointed out that the bite of our local centipedes is not at all serious to man, it might be well to list the symptoms of severe cases resulting from the venom of the tropical species, some of which attain a length of 18 inches! First there is some local pain, then severe headache, fever, vomiting, and in some cases, relapse into a coma. If bitten by our comparatively harmless varieties, merely apply dilute ammonia to the site of the bite, and if there should be pain, sedatives are indicated.

If you come upon a centipede in your walks about our deserts, or in overturning rocks and old rotting logs, or even in your garden at home, don't be alarmed. Instead, watch it for a few moments as it moves about in its own peculiar fashion, its many legs undulating like rows of oars. Marvel at the rapidity and ease with which it moves over the ground. Don't be in such a hurry to kill something that can do you no harm. You certainly don't kill every honey-bee you see, or every red ant, and yet both of these insects can cause more pain and swelling than any of our local centipedes.

Cathedral City

Noted S. C. Group To Present Fine Program in City

The popular U.S.C.A. Capella Choir, now making a tour of the California, is scheduled to perform at P.S.H.S.

Directed by Dr. Charles C. Hirt, the choir will give a 45-minute performance on November 20, at 9:15 a. m. in the high school auditorium. The choir is a highly selective organization of 85 members, and in the short period of its existence has achieved remarkable success. Its objective is to present the great choral works of the masters, in their true forms, unaccompanied.

THIS GROUP took part in the presentation of the St. John's Passion at Boyard auditorium in the Spring of 1946, and also appeared in the Easter sunrise services at Forest Lawn Memorial park which were broadcast over a national hookup. In October, 1946, a concert was presented with Maria Kurenko, noted Russian soprano, as guest soloist, and included music especially arranged for this performance by Alexei Grechaninov, who has manifested great interest in this organization.

Dr. Charles C. Hirt came to the University of Southern California in 1942 and assumed directorship of the choral organizations on the campus. He is interested mainly in the field of sacred music, and soon aroused new enthusiasm along this line. He developed and became director of the sacred music department, enabling students to obtain bachelors' or masters' degrees with a major in sacred music. He is considered an authority on the history of Russian music, and his dissertation on this subject earned for him the Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1946. This group is currently recording for Columbia masterworks.

THE PROGRAM the choir will present for the high school is as follows:

"Alleluia" Thompson
"Holy Radiant Light"
"Nightfall in Skye" Gretchaninoff
"Pedlar" Robertson
"Spirit of the Lord Done Fell on Me," spiritual.
"Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray," spiritual.
Czecho-Slovakian Dance Song (LuLu) Folk Krone
Lullaby Gretchaninoff
"Holiday for Strings" Rose (Gene Simmons, Marimba)
"Meadowlands" Knipper
"Fireman's Bride" Romberg

Student Court Is Started To Give Civics Instruction

The civics class at P.S.H.S. is sponsoring a student court in order to obtain practical experience in government and to help improve the school.

Members of the class have elected court officials for the trials that are held each Thursday during the second period civics class. Students who have been issued citations for violations are brought to court.

Citations can be given by Police Chief Mildred Potter, her deputies, Paula Hayward, Jim Atkins; Service Club members, or members of the Student Council, for crowding in the lunch line, smoking on the school grounds, and other offenses.

If a student is given a third citation, the trial will be held before the student body during activity period on a Thursday.

Members of the court as elected are Don Williams, judge; Diane Heller, clerk; Louis La France, district attorney; Art Smith, public defender; Mildred Potter, police chief, and Paula Hayward and Jim Atkins, deputies. The jury is composed of the remainder of the class.

Transportation Problem Becoming Acute at P.S.H.S.

The transportation problem of the Palm Springs Union High School is becoming acute. There are now only two high school buses with approximately 275 pupils riding on them. The capacities of the buses are 61 and 49 respectively. It is, therefore, necessary for the buses to make a total of eight trips daily.

The driver of the large bus, G. C. Bell, reports that on each of his runs there is a capacity load. This is true also of the other bus. It is hoped that a new bus will be purchased by the beginning of the next school year.

Dr. E. E. Oertel, principal of the high school, has communicated with the Mack-International Motor Truck corporation as to whether or not it is possible for the school to obtain a new bus to relieve the present problem.

Mack-International is the corporation that made the two school buses now in use. They reported that they could not furnish a bus due to the present strikes that have been holding up the corporation's production.

At the present time there are no bus restrictions. The difficulty in obtaining a bus for the high school is caused by the bottleneck in production because of the common labor strikes that are frequently occurring throughout the country.

Cartoon Program At Assembly Pleases Group

The brilliant young cartoonist, Bob Wood, presented his original program, "Dramatic Adventures With Chalk," at the assembly last Thursday.

Bob Wood showed the P.S.H.S. students the basic principles in drawing a face. He also told a story with every picture he drew. Making it even more realistic, he threw an array of different colored lights on his luminous colored chalk drawings which thrilled all the students.

Bob Wood also wrote backwards and upside down. Quite a bit of excitement was caused when he turned the board about and it told the students the In-

Thirty Essays Presented on Youth Center

Thirty essays on the subject, "What Youth Centers Should Contain," were presented to R. F. Graettinger, editor of The Desert Sun, from Irving Sussman's English III class.

The selection of the winning essay will be made shortly.

"Mr. Sussman said when turning in the essays," only the very best essays were entered, and those that were entered had to pass reasonable standards of good grammar.

The suggestions contained in the essays varied from request for pool tables to swimming pools. Dance floors and libraries with favorite books, also discussion rooms were among things asked for.

Program Put on By Girls League At Auditorium

The sophomore class girls gave a program at a regular meeting of Girls League in the auditorium during activity period, Monday.

Phyllis Renville, vice president of this organization, organized, and as the announcer, introduced the performers in the following order:

Mary Louise Klug sang "Just a Cottage Small."

Audrey Bentsen recited two poems, "The Modern Hiawatha" and "I like Spittin'."

Betty Jo Roth played a violin solo which was, "Melody" by Bach.

Joan Robertson sang a solo from "The Firefly," called "Ginnina Mia."

Sandra Veano recited a poem called "The Antiseptic Baby and the Prophylactic Pup."

Mable Potter recited a poem called "Little Boy Blue."

Mrs. Hammond gave her assistance as pianist in accompanying for the solos that were given.

After the laughs died away, Adele Woods and Mrs. Henderson, adviser, gave reports on the Red Cross and the coming Fashion Show. The meeting was adjourned by the president, Sally Robinson.

Red Cross Aid Planned by Girls At High School

By DIANE HELLER

In a Girls League meeting on November 19, Mrs. Mona Henderson told the girls of a plan to send boxes of gifts to the unfortunate children in other countries. Mrs. Henderson represented the high school on Saturday at the Woman's club where a Red cross meeting was held of all the schools.

One very good idea to help the needy is to have the girls who sew, make clothes for the children. Patterns and material will be supplied to those wishing to contribute in this way. Something for everyone to be thinking about though is what to bring for the boxes. Besides clothes, other items such as pencils, crayons, dolls, erasers, pins, jewelry, combs and other nic-nacs would be most acceptable. Last year when the plea for gifts went out not one person responded. Let's not let that ever happen again. This year let's have 100 per cent participation in this school to show the town that Palm Springs High School can really put themselves out to do something constructive.

By LOLO

This week we (Beeton and Miller) are going to try to liven up the gossip column and bring you a few more rumors and happenings. Sadie Hawkins Day brought many laughs and side-splitting episodes. Don "Mac" Kinney caused a riot among certain girls when he arrived very reet-looking in a vouty Lil Abner's trowsers. Ella Ruth Brown, freshman, made an adorable half pint, Daisy Mae, but don't tell her we said so. Jo Wilkes (Moonbeam), Miller (Wolf Girl), Barbara (herself) Beeton, adorned themselves in white shirts with unsewn shorts, and ropes around their waists (waists, that is!!) which is said to be something new.

GLORY PRAISE the brain who think up the idea of the Sadie Hawkins race. All girls equipped with arms (fire arms of course) and other weapons of mancatching, chased and we do mean chased their men and other men, till the bell rang (darn it, missed that second kiss!) Eddie (torn pants) Stinson raced up and down Palm Canyon drive between the doughnut shop and the malt shop kicking his heels on the building. He must think he's a mule. Just call him J. A.

Friday night brought the Sadie Hawkins dance along with cute costumes, typical dog patch style. Including were yokel hair dos. (Say, Mrs. Hammond, pretty sharp, eh what?)

Alright Fungus, keep the ice to yourself, bub.

OUR OWN SWING BAND contributed the music for our great affair (nice work fellas—keep it up).

Tripping the heavy fantastic without a partner was Virginia Miller. Chuck was waltzing the drum around so she took up the tag line one by one.

Man Mountain Dean (Williams) really looked up to character all wrapped up in his bear skin (bear skin, that is).

After the ball was over two parties that we know of took place. One at Don Williams and Bob Darts. At Williams' party were the following guests: Williams and Sally, Ed and Marilyn, Bobby Croft and Archer, Bob Armeson and Bonnie Sue Taylor.

At Darts' party, need I name them all? Just the usual alumni and the following high school crowd: Virginia and Chuck, Candi and Fungus, Whitehead and Jo Ann, Beeton and Stinson, Slocum and Landry, Weingartner and Bonnie Low. Oh happy day!! The room was large enough for about ten people once oddly enough held at least fifty. Ho'w does it do it? Oh these new inventions. Elastic walls!!

SATURDAY NIGHT many gals felt sleepy for some strange reason and decided on slumber parties, which were at Dawns, Paula Kays, and Jeanettes. Dawn's trailer house consumed Virginia Miller, Dawn, Jo, Bonnie Sue, who spent half of their time at Jeannettes listening to Pinkley, and the other half frying bananas at Dawns. Jeannette and Beeton retired at Jans, deciding trailers were too small for so many gals! At six bells all was well, if you don't think so just ask them.

Lest we forget and may they forgive, DuBose had a reet malt-shaking party. His old steady, Jill, of course, was there, Mable and Bender, Betty Wright and Paul, Broom (I mean Brush), and Mary K. Mills, Nancy and Jim, Coni and K. K.

Well here we go again on another reet party at Jeannette's house, where everyone dined, danced, and when they could, romanced, and everyone, means all the old alumni, including Colin Bragg, who is on a 30-day leave; Mort Algase, Stinson, St. George, Fungus, Whitehead, Weingartner, Jonesy, Brady and Bonnie Lou, Earl Ray and Jackie Aitken, Audrey and Jimmy, Flynn, Landry and Slocum, Goodwill, J. R., Bonnie Sue, V. Miller, B. Beeton.

Indians Back in Football World And Win 14 to 6

After heavy rain and a reversal of a school board decision, Palm Springs Indians finally did play the Perris Panthers on Friday afternoon, November 17. And the Indians won, 14-6.

The Panthers kicked off, and a battle royal started on the Indians' home field. The Indians received the ball and drove to the Panther's 23-yard line only to have the Panthers push them back to their own 25-yard line. The battle saw-sawed back and forth until the closing minutes when the Panthers drove to the Indians' one-foot line. When the second quarter started the crowd was tense and the ball was a bare foot away from the Indians' goal. The ball was centered to Johnson, Panthers' right halfback, who plunged through the Indians' line to draw first blood of the game. The conversion failed.

DON WHITEHEAD, Indian quarterback, received the Panthers' punt and ran the ball 60 yards to Perris' 13-yard line. The Indians were stopped temporarily but a well placed pass by Whitehead to Ed Wills in the end zone tied up the game.

The conversion was made and Palm Springs was ahead one point.

Perris pushed their way over the goal, but it didn't count because of a penalty, and the next try failed.

In the closing seconds of the second quarter the hard-hitting Indians smashed their way to the Panthers' 1-yard line where full-back Don McKinney crashed his way over center for the Indians' second tally. Jim Searles took the ball around right end to make the conversion.

WITH THE BEGINNING of the third quarter a fresh Perris team came on the field but even a fresh team couldn't break the Indians' defenses. Both teams put up a good battle, but neither could score.

As the fourth quarter rolled around the ball was on the Indians' 20-yard line and around there the fourth quarter play remained.

The fourth was strictly a defensive period, and several times the Indians were forced to punt from behind their own goal. Perris didn't have quite enough to crush the Indians and the game ended 14-6 in the Indians' favor. The beginning line-up of the teams were:

Indians	Panthers
Jones	LE Williams
Hillery	LT Babcock
Higgins	LG Ransom
Williams	C Bats
Doro	RG Gill
Holderman	RT Porter
Lopez	RE Weischedel
Bender	LH Deall
Weingartner	RH Johnson
McKinney	F Brand
Searles	Q Tyrrel

Wilkes, Dawn, Candi, and many, many others.

WELL, GANG, this about does it for this week and we're all hoping LoLo will be back to fill this column next week with all her gags and gifts of gab. Don't we (huh!). Don't answer that.

As Confucius says, the latest report is that "The sun never sets without rising" and LoLo is up again so watch your seats and hold your boy friends, 'cause Valier rides again! Da Da!

Be it ever so humble it is still Gazoozit if in name only. Let us start off the column with a note of congratulations to our mighty football team. It was a great game fellows. Keep up the swell work! But how could it be anything but a good game with the spirit and sincere wishes everyone possessed on Friday.

Let's give three cheers for our rooting section and their cheerleaders, Bonnie Sue Taylor and Dawn Okerlund, also Barbara Beeton's stepping to the tune of the band, who last but not least, did a wonderful job.

DATES ON FRIDAY NIGHT who went all out (for a change) were Dixie and Henson, Doro and Mary K. they dined at The Stables and then went on.

Saturday night Betty Wright's party was a very successful shindig. Everyone had a great old time including "Gilmore," the cat. It was quite a sight to see Henson dancing with "Gilmore," only he insisted it was a "hep-cat" (joke!) Some of the crowd were Betty and Paul, Dixie and Doro, Barry and Audrey, Jill and Don, Mable and Bender, Mary K. Mills, Elanne, Kingsbury, Don Miller and Barbara Jones, Henson, Nancy and Jim, and Jim Carlin, trying to get pictures of all. Also making merry with the food and music were Ralph Woodward, Danny, Cootie Rake, Marilyn, Jack Pendry, Corky Hammond, K. K. and Coni, Marlene Knower, Connie Nash.

Saturday Elanne Purnel gave a party up in her cabin at Idyllwild. From all we hear, these girls had a hilarious time. Jill, Elanne, Dixie, Mabel, Sandra and Mary K. Mills. All that is well ends well so they say.

Lest we forget, we'll mention Dart's two parties, Friday night and Sunday night. The usual people were there. Also Barbara Emigh had a gay party Saturday night, if you don't believe it just ask her.

These two editions combined have made a rather large column. LoLo will be back on the job next week. So be good and be sure and read next week's Gazoozit.

Senior Class Pictures Being Taken at School

Senior class pictures are to be taken, starting Monday, November 18, by William Fox, local photographer. The senior class held a meeting Thursday, November 14, to vote on which photographer should take the class pictures for the Annual.

After considering the bids submitted by Bernard of Hollywood, Irving Matloff, and William Fox, all well-known local photographers, the class decided to engage the services of William Fox. Mr. Fox said that he could photograph six persons a day. The charge will be $2.00 a sitting and six poses will be made of each person. An additional charge of $8.50 for six additional prints each 5 by 7 inches will be asked of those wishing additional pictures. Jeanette Ofshtun, secretary of the senior class, is in charge of appointments with the photographer.

School Gets on Village Time After a Hassle

Things are getting back to normal around P.S.H.S. again. Nobody has committed hari kari or gone stark-raving mad over the new time changes.

There have been a few people who have had to alter their programs slightly to meet outside demands. But nothing serious. Such phrases as "9:30 Village time that's 8:30 standard time" are frequently heard but this is because the system is still new and different.

One man coming to the Village on business was amazed to discover he was an hour late. But think at the surprise he will get when he gets home. He will be an hour early.

No! Mayor Hyde hasn't been assassinated and we do get an hour more of sun out at P.S.H.S.

Canning season doesn't need to worry the fellow who really works.
